KeyMacro is a handy keyboard-shortcut utility for quick and easy access to common functions in your applications. Just hit the assigned shortcut and KeyMacro will automatically take you to the desired desktop window, application or web page. If that is not enough, you can set it to automatically run another shortcut as well. KeyMacro makes your computer faster and easier to use because you can access your favorite desktop windows or web pages or even the open programs with just one shortcut key. KEYMACRO Main Screen: The main screen of KeyMacro displays information about the application. For example, you can see information about which key is assigned to which function and the number of shortcuts assigned. In addition, it shows the status of the program's shortcut keys (for example, if it is currently running or if it is ready to run). KEYMACRO Main Screen: KeyMacro can run automatically If you have assigned a shortcut key to a particular function, you can configure it so that KeyMacro runs automatically at a particular time, such as when you get up in the morning. You can also set it to run when a particular program is launched. If you set the shortcut keys to run an external program, you can also configure it so that the program runs automatically at a particular time. That way, you can run KeyMacro once to open the programs you need, and only once every day or on a daily basis. KEYMACRO Main Screen: In KeyMacro, you can configure the shortcuts to run when the computer starts In KeyMacro, you can also configure the shortcuts to run when the computer starts. Then when you start your computer, KeyMacro automatically runs the desired shortcut for the program. CONFIGURATION: The main screen of KeyMacro displays information about the application. Desktop Movepaper was designed as a replacement for your regular desktop wallpaper, with the purpose of displaying images and animations in full screen while providing access to the task bar. It is also able to use images from URLs or to create a slideshow made up out of web search results for a specified keyword. It can be used on an average computer and addresses all audiences on account of its ease of use and simplicity. Also, it does not require installation; simply double-click the executable and wait for it to load – note that it might take a while. At first, the application displays a white background, hinting you to move the mouse to the upper left corner of the screen to reveal the menus. From here, you will be able to add a new image from your hard drive (in PNG, JPG and GIF format) or from a web URL, in which case you will be required to specify the address. Other options allow you to clear the current image, to save it locally (in BMP format) or to share it on Facebook. Also, you can opt to stretch the image or to generate a slideshow using pictures from the Internet. The latter option will search various web portals, such as Google Images, Reddit, Flickr, Imgur, Tumblr and Deviant Art for images that match a user-defined keyword. The fetched pictures are displayed at a preset delay that can range from 10 to 60 seconds. Please note that this feature requires an Internet connection. It is important to mention that during the slideshow, the task bar will remain visible at all times, providing access to the Start Menu and pinned applications. Overall, the application behaves decently, although the support for input image formats could be richer. It would also be great if it could create slideshows from multiple local images instead of displaying just one. Where can I download this software? I have installed and it works pretty well, I liked it Daniel M I think it's the best app I've ever used. ray You have to pay to make changes. cmbp A shoddy UI and an obtrusive, intrusive ads for adsense is what I expect from an app that hosts content. Rick how do you fix the background color on a new wallpaper it goes gray for a while Kathy This is the only wallpaper I have that doesn't cause my screen to turn a blueish hue when I move

DESCRIPTION
MovePaper is a desktop utility that allows you to create and maintain a list of wallpaper links and automatically move them from one location to another. It is ideal for maintaining a collection of wallpaper links to wallpapers stored on your computer and transferring them to an external hard drive or to a different computer. In this way, the wallpaper collection is never lost. You can have a collection of wallpapers saved in any folder of your choice. This lets you move your wallpapers from one place to another when you want to. You can even have a collection of wallpapers saved in multiple folders, and you can later move them all to one folder. MovePaper lets you move the wallpaper links to and from any folder of your choice. All you need to do is open a window where you want to save the links and hit the 'Add Wallpaper' button. Click on the 'Choose a file or click here to browse' button and move the file to the location of your choice. Then, click on the 'Save and Close' button to add the wallpaper link to the list. Now you can move the link to any folder of your choice and also use them to set the wallpaper on your desktop. You can also edit the wallpaper links. Click on the 'Edit' button and then edit the wallpaper link and then hit the 'Save' button. You can also clear the collection of wallpaper links from the list. To clear the collection of wallpaper links, just click on the 'Clear List' button and then hit the 'OK' button. You can also create a slideshow out of the selected wallpaper links by using the 'Slideshow' feature. You can change the slide duration and slideshow length and
