Snowboard 3D - you're riding the white highway of the mountains! Experience the sensation of playing an extreme sport in the winter resort of the Alps. Do you want to be a star? The Skiing and Snowboarding Simulator - In this survival simulator you have to survive in the snow and ski down from the top. Snowboarder is on his way to the top and the mountain is also everything for him. The snowboarder is your goal. For you is nothing except the mountain. Immerse yourself in a realistic winter sport experience. Drive your vehicle across the snowy roads of the Alps in any direction. You have the choice to drive your vehicle as you want. Drive when you feel like it. Your car doesn't have to be driven on the slope. You can even drive off-road over ramps, up and down ski lifts and so much more. You can brake as hard as you want. You can even run into the obstacles and block some obstacles by your car. The snow is, after all, cold! You have to take care of yourself in this realistic simulation. Wear the right coat, wear the right hat and of course have gloves when it is cold and snowy. When it is warm, the snow doesn't need any protection. The slopestyle mode is also very much playable in Snowboarder. You can perform great jumps and ground tricks. Your goal is to ride the frozen surface as far as you can. The slopestyle mode offers more than 20 different levels. After the complete slopestyle mode, the snowboarder can compete in the Alpine Skiing mode. The levels to be conquered are located in the Alps as well. In this free DLC, we would also like to introduce a multiplayer mode. You can even take part in a battle against other players. The two characters driving the snowboarder are created with a high degree of detail. About TechnoAlpin: TechnoAlpin is a new company founded by the Team of Schüco, who were also responsible for the development of the Schüco Snowboard and Snowboard accessories. The name of the company is a result of the merging of the two brands. The first product was released in November 2013. The company wants to provide players with a snowboard which is as realistic as possible. Another reason for the founding of the company is the availability of multiple games in different price categories. The idea to combine the two

Styrene exposures associated with austere medical operations. U.S. combat personnel deployed to regions around the globe have had relatively extensive exposures to solvents, including polychlorinated biphenyls and styrene, found in the ground environment and in medical operations. The exposures to these two contaminants occurred through inhalation route with exposures based on the activities of U.S. military personnel conducting austere medical treatment, with the objective of expediting the rate of treatment delivery. The elemental analysis of soil samples was performed on Univex 2 analyzer in a laboratory operated by the Center for Chemical and Radiological Countermeasures at Edgewood Chemical Biological Center. Styrene concentrations in soil were determined using high-performance liquid chromatography coupled with a photo diode array detector. Within the outer bounds of the 95% confidence interval (CI), the concentrations of styrene in random soil samples collected at the medical treatment areas were in the range of 9.4 to 27.8 mg/kg, with an arithmetic mean of 19.4 (SE, 1.5) mg/kg. Statistical comparisons of soil concentrations to results obtained from Styrene Series powder-coated vehicle cans found at the military operations areas indicated no significant differences. Styrene exposures measured at five medical treatment areas and five vehicle testing areas were defined as follows (in mg/m³): Area 1 = 76 +/- 23; Area 2 = 75 +/- 12; Area 3 = 157 +/- 59; Area 4 = 39 +/- 5; Area 5 = 19 +/- 5; or range within 21 to 113 mg/m³. Significant differences between styrene soil and vehicle exposures at the five medical treatment areas were noted at P less than 0.05. These data suggest that styrene soil exposures may be higher
